The ACCG Civic Affairs Foundation is a 501(c)3 organization that offers civic affairs initiatives that strengthen county government and improve local communities.

Youth programs offered through the ACCG Civic Affairs Foundation offer students a chance to learn practice-based lessons about where they live and how they can make a positive difference in their communities through public services.

Through the Foundation's Georgia County Internship Program, undergraduate and graduate level college students participate in internship opportunities across a broad spectrum of academic disciplines ranging from accounting to wildlife services in county government offices throughout the state. These students not only gain valuable work skills, but they learn more about the role of Georgia's counties.

For more information on these and other ACCG Civic Affairs Foundation programs, visit www.civicaffairs.org.
