PATRISE PERKINS-HOOKER

President-Elect, State Bar of Georgia

Patrise Perkins-Hooker is the Vice President and General Counsel for Atlanta Beltline, Inc. She was also a partner with Hollowell, Foster & Gepp, PC and also owned her own law firm Patrise Perkins-Hooker and Associates for 10 years.

Perkins-Hooker is an honors graduate of Georgia Tech and earned both a JD and MBA from Emory Law and Business Schools respectively. She is admitted to the Georgia, Federal District and Tax Courts and is an inactive CPA.

In addition to being the President-Elect of the State Bar of Georgia and a former Chair of the Real Property Law Section, Perkins-Hooker is also the immediate past Chair for Hosea Feed the Hungry. She also served as a Past President of the Emory Business School Alumni Association and the Gate City Bar Association. She is a former Trustee of the Georgia Institute of Technology's Alumni Association and was selected as its Outstanding Young Alumnus for 1988. She has received numerous honors for her service to the legal profession and the community, including being inducted into the Gate City Bar Association's Hall of Fame and being presented the Eleonore Raoul Greene Trailblazer Award from Emory University Law School.

She is happily married to Douglas R. Hooker. They have two children and several grandchildren.

JEFF HECK, CEO and Supreme Beer Chancellor Monday Night Brewing

“From the Bible to Beer: An Entrepreneurial Success Story”

Jeff Heck is CEO and Supreme Chancellor of Monday Night Brewing, which he co-founded with Jonathan Baker and Joel Iverson in 2011. The trio's vision grew out of a small group Bible study that began brewing beer together in 2006 as a way to get to know each other better. It took on a life of its own, and Monday Night Brewing opened a production brewery in Atlanta in January, 2013.

Jeff is the only of the three co-founders who doesn't work full time in the business. He is an investment professional at Roark Capital Group, a private equity firm in Atlanta with $3.0 billion under management, where he has worked since 2007. At Roark, Jeff spends his time working with portfolio companies and potential investment opportunities in franchise, restaurant and multi-unit businesses.

He graduated from Harvard University in 2003 and is also a founding member and elder at Atlanta Westside Presbyterian Church.

In addition to working too much, Jeff thoroughly enjoys spending his time with his wife, Hannah, and their three young children – Teddy, 5; Kenser, 4; and Liza, 2.

KIWANIS ONE DAY PROJECT!

Thanks to our Conservation and Environmental Committee, several club members participated in the "Sweep The Hooch" project. They were part of 580 volunteers who collected a record setting total of 7,275 tons of trash ... that's 14,500 lbs. collected at 28 different site locations. Great job to Mary Allen, Brian Bienn, Bill Doherty and John Ottley!
