

Registered Behavior Technician (RBT) Training Course

The Applied Behavior Analysis for Practitioners course will provide training on behavioral principles and procedures for individuals seeking Registered Behavior Technician (RBT) certification. This course includes face-to-face lectures and application activities in ethics, observation and data collection, skill acquisition plans and procedures, and behavior reduction plans and procedures. This training program is based on the Behavior Analyst Certified Board (BACB) RBT Task List 2 and is designed to meet or exceed the 40-hour training requirement for the RBT credential. The program is offered independently of the BACB and is unique in that we offer the course as a face-to-face interactive option so participants can interact with their instructors live. Persons are encouraged to register for each session which serves as a full RBT course if they are interested in registering to take the RBT exam. Participants must register for each session separately and the cost is $50 per session. Participants can register for all or some of the sessions. However, a certificate of completion will only be issued to persons who complete all sessions in sequential order.
