

Project Healthy Moms: Resource List for Perinatal Mood and Anxiety Disorders (PMADs)

Provided by Project Healthy Moms, Mental Health America of Georgia

Mental Health America of Georgia's Project Healthy Moms provides this resource list of healthcare providers and outlets for self-care that specialize in providing care for pregnant or postpartum women. Please note that although seeking professional help is vital, a woman can complement her treatment plan with self-care and other support strategies. This list is comprehensive and includes many resources that may be combined.

Disclaimer: This list is intended for reference purposes only. Practitioners on this list have indicated experience and interest in PMADs; however, they have not been approved by a formal process through Mental Health America of Georgia. Therefore, inclusion on this resource list should not be considered an endorsement from Mental Health America of Georgia. Furthermore, services and information provided by these resources do not necessarily reflect the views of Mental Health America of Georgia.

Mental Health America of Georgia

Mental Health America of Georgia (MHA of Georgia) is our state's leading nonprofit organization dedicated to helping all Georgians live mentally healthier lives through education, outreach, and advocacy. Project Healthy Moms (PHM), an important initiative of MHA of Georgia, strives to increase awareness, identification, treatment, and support of perinatal mood disorders in Georgia, while also reducing the stigma associated with them. PHM hopes to achieve this goal through educational seminars for healthcare providers, students, and the general public, through the distribution of informational provider tool-kits, and through the expansion of Georgia's perinatal peer support for mothers recovering from perinatal mood and anxiety disorders.
