

HAVE YOU BEEN ATTACKED OR INJURED?

Have you experienced a traumatic event such as rape, physical or sexual assault, child abuse, a severe car accident, a natural disaster, or seen someone be killed or badly hurt?

The feelings after experiencing a traumatic event can be disabling. The Mood and Anxiety Program of the Emory University School of Medicine is now enrolling women who may have posttraumatic stress disorder or PTSD.

You may be eligible if you are experiencing symptoms such as:

- Upsetting memories
- Irritability
- Bad dreams or difficulty sleeping
- Unable to concentrate
- Feeling hopeless, angry, sad, fearful, guilty, or ashamed

If you are a woman between 21 and 64 years of age you may be eligible to participate in a study of an experimental medication for PTSD. Participants will receive a study-related psychiatric evaluation, a physical exam, laboratory tests, and study-related medicine.
